

POLIN MEETING POINT

July 17–31, 2016
POLIN Museum of the History of Polish Jews
Warsaw, Poland

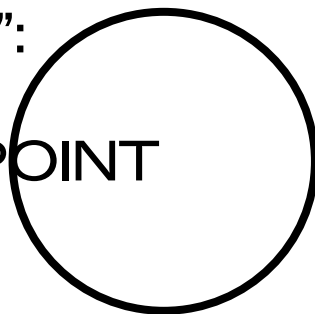

Summer Education School for university students from Poland, Israel and Germany

We invite students to take part in POLIN Meeting Point, POLIN Museum's international summer school. We invite applications from students from Poland, Germany and Israel, who are interested in exploring postwar history together.

POLIN Museum's interdisciplinary summer program provides opportunities for discussion amongst participants and with invited lecturers from each of the countries. Students will discover different intellectual perspectives on the postwar period in the course of workshops and lectures as well as visits to POLIN Museum's core exhibition, memorial sites and other museums across Poland.

“AFTER THE WAR”: 2ND EDITION OF POLIN MEETING POINT

Participation in the program is free of charge. Travel and accommodation expenses (board and lodging) will be covered by the organizer. All classes will be conducted in English.

During workshops we will focus on the topic of post-war reconstruction, the emergence of a new, postwar identity in Poland and Germany, and the construction of Israeli statehood. We will draw on witness accounts, also learning how to work with oral history material. Along with invited experts from Poland, Germany and Israel participants will discuss the rebirth of Jewish communities, dealing with Holocaust trauma, postwar violence and various postwar debates.
